Today's Scripture

2 Kings 5:14-17
 2 Timothy 2:8-13
 Luke 17:11-19

The Word of God cannot be chained.
 The enemies of the faith cannot win.

Paul's suffering served the spread of the Gospel. In today's second reading, Paul spoke of how his imprisonment led to the possibility of preaching to the guards. The word of God cannot be chained.

The power of God will transform disasters into blessings, crosses into moments of resurrection. If we persevere, then we will reign with God in glory.

With Us Today

We welcome Chris Bell from Good Counsel Homes, speaking on behalf of their mission at all Masses. Good Counsel operates Catholic homes for homeless pregnant women and their babies and a national toll-free help line (800-723-8331).

There will be baby bottle envelopes given out to be filled with monetary donation, to assist their valuable pro-life ministry. Please consider signing up to become a monthly donor. For more information or to donate online please go to www.goodcounselhomes.org Also, to help spread the word LIKE Good Counsel Homes on Facebook or follow on Twitter, Pinterest or Instagram.

Good Counsel also offers hope and healing for those who are suffering after abortion. Lumina, which means light, offers help for men, women and siblings who are feeling pain because of an abortion in their life or family. Confidential, compassionate help may be found for anyone at 1-877-Lumina.1 (1-877-586-4621) or at www.LuminaHope.org or www.PostAbortionHelp.org

Rosary for Life

Come join us for an hour of prayer with Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament on Friday, October 18 at Our Lady of the Assumption. The Mamakating Knights of Columbus will host a Rosary for Life at 7:00 PM in the Church.

All are invited to spend this time together in prayer to promote reverence and respect for the God-given gift of human life – especially the life of the unborn – and affirm the sanctity of life from the moment of conception through the time of a natural death.

The Year of Vocations

"Today, may there be peace within. May you trust God that you are exactly where you are." ~ St. Teresa of Avila. The gift of faith allows us to journey in friendship with God. This journey is our vocation. Is God calling you to grow in holiness as a Carmelite Friar? Contact the Vocation Office at 845-344-2225 or email: vocations@carmelites.com.

In today's Gospel, Jesus' attention to outsiders and marginalized people is evident from the start. The recipient of healing and grace is a foreigner — a Samaritan. Samaritans were the unlovely outsiders of Jesus' day, and we can think about who that might be for our congregations and ourselves. These unappealingly different and unwelcome outsiders, along with outsiders generally, are received positively by Jesus. We see this most notably in the parable of Luke 10:25-37, in which it is a Samaritan, and not the respectable religious people, who demonstrates love for his neighbor by showing mercy to a wounded stranger.

There is no doubt something to be understood here about the people who live on the margins of our communities, who are treated as invisible or unlovely because of how they look or who they are or where they come from. Jesus clearly notices and loves them and calls us to do the same.

But we might also consider the parts of us that are hidden in the borderlands of ourselves where we may least want to be seen and most need to be touched. Jesus, who is not afraid of borderlands, does not mind meeting us in those places, and it may be that by recognizing him there, we will find in our deepest selves a new outpouring of the grateful love that makes us well.
