Today's Scripture

24th Sunday in Ordinary Time

Sirach 27:30-28:7
 Romans 14:7-9
 Matthew 18:21-35

God has taught us the true meaning of love by being willing to die for us. This is the measure of the love that we must have for each other.

What is the profound truth? We are not our own. God created us out of love, and called us into his love. We are not complete if we try to live in a totally autonomous manner. We are only complete in the Lord.

Thus, our question must be how can we live each day as a response to God's call? Even death, a passing from this world to the next, must be viewed as a response to God's call.

The Year of Vocations

"In heaven, the most beautiful souls are those that have sinned the most and repented. But they made use of their miseries like manure around the base of a tree." ~ Bl. Mary of Jesus Crucified. Each person is called to repentance. When a heart repents it steps back on to the path that leads to the narrow gate, made know via the pierced heart of Christ. The act of repentance is what makes the land of Carmel a place of beauty for all those that reside within it. Is God calling you to grow in holiness as a Carmelite Friar? Contact the Vocation Office at 845-344-2225 or email: vocations@carmelites.com.

Congratulations to eleven of our Religious Education students who received the Sacrament of First Holy Communion on Saturday morning.

Thank you to our Catechists and Aides for helping the students to prepare for this beautiful experience. Thank you, too, to Chris Herschel, RE. Coordinator, for her excellent leadership.

Romans 14:7-9

For none of us lives for ourselves alone, and none of us dies for ourselves alone. If we live, we live for the LORD; and if we die, we die for the LORD. So, whether we live or die, we belong to the LORD. For this very reason, Christ died and returned to life so that he might be the LORD of both the dead and the living.

The Archdiocese mandates that each parish publish the following announcement two times each year:
